LAST NIGHT'S GAYETIES. Mrs. Harrison's Reception-Miss Leiter'

Leap Year Cotillion Last Evening-Miss elors' German-Echoes of the Bonaparte Ball-Luncheons and Teas. Mrs. Harrison, at her reception this after-

Mrs. Harrison, at her reception this afternoon, is being assisted by the wives of Justice Gray and Justice Brewer. The ladies invited to the blue room are Miss Brice, Miss Chandler, Miss Morgan, Miss Voorhees, Miss Washburn, Miss Teller, Miss Fries, Miss Lodge, Miss Herbert, Miss Boutelle, Miss Lowery, Miss Mattingly, Miss Williams, Miss Scidmore, Miss Leiber, Miss Amy Leiber, Miss Breckindige, Miss Edie, Miss Edith Patten, Miss Helen Patten, Miss Pauncefote, Miss Sybil Pauncefote, Miss Parker, Miss Carroll. If society people go everywhere they are in-attacks of nervous prostration in high life. The severity of these attacks are never as bad, The severity of these attacks are never as bad, however, among those who get many invitations as they are in the households where the cards have failed to arrive. Last week was pretty active and had its measure of happiness and heartsore. The Bonaparte ball was the feature. It was the big solitaire in the string. The next seven days and nights are full to overflowing and everybody in the current should have a change may two or three of overflowing and everybody in the current should have a chance, nay, two or three of them, to get near the front. For some there will be a pick and choice of balls. Mr. Greger and Mr. de Botkine of the Russian legation have invited their diplomatic and other friends to come in after the diplomatic reception at the White House Tuesday night and help them celebrate the Russian new year. There will be music, but of a sort to dance by, and the scene in the legation ball room will reand the scene in the legation ball room will re-vive memories of all the other brilliant events of admission will entitle the subscriber to two which have taken place there. Wednesday might ex-Gov. and Mrs. John Lee Carroll will give a ball at the Porter mansion, where they are living this winter. Thursday night the Chinese minister will give a ball. Inclosed in the envelope with the invitation is a card reading, "Present this at the Chinese legation Thursday, January 14." In the invitations to the foreign ministers this little precaution is omitted. If it does nothing else this ball shows that the thraldom under which Chinese women have lived for centuries seems Chinese women have lived for centuries seems to have vanished in this land of the free, for Madame Tsur will be the hostess of the occasion. It makes a real nice leap year incident and in connection with the coming woman suffrage convention—well, it speaks volumes.

A brief summary of the coming week is contained in the following: MONDAY, JANUARY 11. The Vice President and Mrs. Morton will dine at a cabinet dinner the President and Mrs. Harrison. The dinner will be followed by a reception to meet President and Mrs. Harrison, for which invitations have been extended to the diplomatic corps, the Senate and the Supergraph County of the Supergraph County of the President and Mrs. preme Court.
The Dancing Club, which gave three handsome entertainments last winter, will give another in the ball room of the Cochran. TUESDAY, JANUARY 12. Miss Nicholas and Mrs. George Byrd Harrison will give a tea after 4. Mrs. Robert Fitch Shepard and Miss Newton, 1306 18th street, the first of three Tuesday teas,

Mrs. Henry F. Blount, "The Oaks," a tea, 4 Mrs. Dickson, a tea, 4 to 7. In the evening the President and Mrs. Harrison will give the first of their levees, which is

n honor of the diplomatic corps. The hours are 9 to 11. Mr. Greger will give a ball at the Russian WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 13. Mrs. Charles C. Bassett will give a luncheon

Mrs. Harrison and Mrs. McKee will receive their friends, who come by invitation, at 5 Miss Edes will give a tea, 4 to 7.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 14. Mrs. Otis Bigelow will give a luncheon. Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Edmonds, a dinner. Mrs. J. Fairfield Carpenter, a dance. Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Emmons, a reception at 10 o'clock.

The Chinese minister and Mme. Tsin. a ball at their legation. The National Rifles, a reception. FRIDAY, JANUARY 15.

Mrs. Isham Hornsby will give the first of a series of evenings.

Minister Quesada will give a dinner.

Mrs. Audenried will give a dinner. This afternoon Mrs. Harrison will receive the public from 3 to 5. Mrs. Andrew Ross Potts and Miss Potts will give a tea at 5 o'clock to meet Mrs. J. N. Stearns, jr., and Miss Stearns. Mrs. Stearns is remem-Dered here as Miss May Potts.

Tonight Mr. J. W. Thompson and Miss Ida Thompson will give a reception to meet "The Literary Society" at 8:30 o'clock. Mrs. Harrison has invited friends to sicale at the White House.

The residence of the Postmaster General was The residence of the Postmaster General was very gay last night with the young people of the dancing class, invited by Miss Elizabeth Wanamaker. She received her guests in the front drawing room, and was prettily dressed in embroidered white muslin and ribbon shoulder knots. Miss Wanamaker, who was going afterward to Miss Leiter's german, wore light blue brocade. Mrs. Wanamaker and Mrs. Thomas Wanamaker chaperoned the young people. Among the guests were the Misses Morton, Miss Alice Belknap, Miss Alice Wilmerding, the Misses Warder, Miss Amy Leiber, Miss Train, Miss Helen Hay, Miss Elsie Anderson, the Misses McCammon, Miss Rita Clagett, Henri de Siborug, Chandler Hale. Clarence Wilson, Corcoran Thom, Robert Wallach, Horace Westcott, William Leiber and Morton Otis.

The Bonaparte ball is yet the topic of conversation in society, and certainly will be for some time, as it will be rather difficult for any one to surpass it. Every detail for the pleasure of the guests was thoughtfully planned out. The supper was perfect and the wines plentiful. When supper was announced for the cotillion dancers at 2 o'clock all the couples formed in procession and walked through the pariors to the supper room. As is customary at French cotillions, they passed by their hostess, and each couple made a salutation to her. to which she responded by a deep curtsey. The last of the dancers did not leave the ball room until long past 4, driving home through the fast-falling snow.

There were three young ladies at the Bonsparte ball who never had been at a ball before.

Mrs. Preston Sands gave a 5 o'clock tea last Tuesday in honor of Miss Louise Mitchell. Two or three of the recent parties at the Country Club were occasions of great pleasure to those participating. Maj. and Mrs. Ferguson gave a dinner and dance there for their son, who was home from the University of Virginia for the holidays. On Monday night Mr. George Hellen gave a dancing party there for his cousin, Miss Todd.

Mrs. and Miss Norton gave a largely attended tea last Wednesday.

The Bachelors' German gave the first of their series of dances on Wednesday last. Mrs. John R. McLean received the guests. Mr. Wm. Hall R. McLean received the guests. Mr. Whi. McLean received the guests.
